

2010 Parental Control & Internet Filtering Guide

The best way to protect your family online is to get an effective Internet Filter. There are many filters in the market, but very few are able to filter effectively. Below are some of the top rated filters with a detailed feature list. We have divided each internet filter into four different categories: Feature Set, Ease of Use, Ease of Setup and Overall Effectiveness. FamilyInternetSafety.com has reviewed the top ten filters and has ranked them for you.

 CyberPatrol	Our Rating  8.5	User Rating  5	$39.95  Trial 14-days Free Read Full Review View Screen Shots View Features	CyberPatrol's Internet filter was one of the most feature heavy products we reviewed. From application blocking, stealth mode, time allowance and many more, CyberPatrol had the most features of all products. Although the product had all of the right features it was not the most intuitive to use. Company Site
 SafeEyes	Our Rating  8	User Rating  8	$49.95  Trial 15-days Read Full Review View Screen Shots View Features	SafeEyes's Internet filter was one of the easiest and most user-friendly products we reviewed. With the cross platform capabilities (works on PC and Mac), remote management, time management, and many more. Company Site
 ChildSafe	Our Rating  7.5	User Rating  6	$39.95  Trial No Trial Read Full Review View Screen Shots View Features	From computer time restrictions to temporary override passwords, Child Safe provides several features that offer another level of customization. With these new features, Child Safe also made Child Safe difficult to manage and a little overwhelming. The user interface can be confusing at times and is cluttered with descriptions and tool tips. Company Site
 CyberSitter	Our Rating  7	User Rating  6	$39.95  Trial 10-days Free Read Full Review View Screen Shots View Features	CyberSitter is noted for its simplicity in design, unique feature set and ease of use. Some of CyberSitter's unique features include: Scanning your hard disk for objectionable material and a SnooStick to monitor your computer from any Internet connection (for an additional cost).
